

Julie Herringe

there are endless possibilities when painting the human figure and I find myself travelling to a special place unexplainable place when I draw the body.

My Graphic Design background gives me endless freedom in my choice of colour and composition.

My work is modern, real yet simplistic with an element of imagination so that the viewer is compelled to interpret and finish what they see in their own mind.

I love working with mixed media, pastels & conti.

