

JO DAVIS

b. 1977, North Carolina, USA

Jo Davis was born in Durham, North Carolina. In 2003, while Jo was living in San Francisco, CA, her father piloted a plane that crashed into the mountains of North Carolina, instantly killing her father, mother, and sister. She then moved to Lancaster, PA, where she still resides, to be near remaining family members. After giving birth to her first child, she lived in Panama City, Panama for two years before returning to Pennsylvania and raising her three children. Her artworks are meditations on family, place, and isolation.
