I have primarily produced abstract paintings and iPad illustrations over the past five years. Some of my artwork was published by The Toronto School of Art's "Spring newsletter: Abstract Art Woman on Street" and included in the Brain Injury Society of Toronto's Annual Art Show, respectively. My illustrations are also featured in The Shoe Project COVID: Across Canada, which includes 81 illustrations to accompany 81 stories. I have also worked as a freelance graphic designer for The Shoe Project for years. I have volunteered for the Brain Injury Society of Toronto and have also exhibited my work at Workman Arts and the John B. Aird Gallery.
