Artist Bio

Charles C. Clear III (b. 1964, Providence, Rhode Island, US) is a visionary artist renowned for his transformative murals and captivating canvases that bring the world around us to life.

Celebrated for his vibrant and meticulously detailed murals, Clear has adorned numerous spaces with his vivid interpretations of landscapes, seascapes, and portraits. His mastery extends seamlessly between oil and acrylic mediums, with each stroke reflecting his profound reverence for nature's intricacies.

Inspired by the rugged allure of southern Rhode Island's coast, Clear's art captures the essence of our natural wonders. Whether meticulously crafting every detail in the studio or painting en plein air amidst the elements, his work exudes a palpable sense of immediacy and energy.

For Clear, painting transcends mere expression-it is a spiritual practice, a communion with the divine beauty that surrounds us.

Rooted in gratitude for his God-given talent, Clear infuses every creation with a profound sense of positivity, affirming the beauty and vitality of life itself.

He currently resides in Rhode Island with his partner, Bonnie Lee Turner, continuing to weave threads of wonder and joy into the fabric of our world through his art.
